

Sinclair Tells Story of Bonds

Oil Operator Says He Received $750,000 After Continental Oil Deal—Sought to Protect Rights of His Company.

Washington, May 1 (AP).—Harry F. Sinclair's own story, told today to the Senate Teapot Dome committee, was that he received $750,000 after the famous Continental Oil deal, but that his interest in the deal was to protect the rights of his company.

Breaking a silence which he has maintained throughout his trials for criminal conspiracy in the Teapot Dome lease and the long Senate investigation, the oil man said he had turned over to the Sinclair Crude Purchasing Company $750,000 in securities and $142,000 in interest after his acquittal here in his recent trial.

Sinclair, detailing his conception of the Continental deal, whereby Standard and Sinclair companies paid a profit of 25 cents a barrel to the Continental Trading Company, said that H. M. Blackmer, one of the organizers of the transaction, gave him the bonds. He had stipulated that his company should share in the commission, he said.

"I got it in the form of Liberty bonds," he said, "they were sent to me over a period of two years."

"Beginning in 1922 and extending to when?"

"I think it was in the fall of 1923."

"From whom did you get the bonds?"

"From Mr. Blackmer. Some were sent by a messenger whose identity I do not know. Whether any were given to me by Mr. Osler I do not know."

This reference was to H. S. Osler, president of the Continental Company. Sinclair said he kept a record of the deliveries but did not have that record now.

Uncertain About Bonds.

Sinclair could not say whether the bonds he turned over to his company were the same as those he received.

"What did you do with them as you received them?" He was asked.

"I may have put them in my vault or in the Empire Trust Company."

The witness said he did not personally turn the bonds over to his company; that he left that to his attorney, G. T. Stanford, general counsel for the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company.

"Did you inform the board of directors previously about that?" asked Walsh.

"No, sir."

"What instrument did you execute to the company to show its interest in the matter?"

"None."

Bought Interest in Fall's Ranch.

Senator Walsh asked about the $223,000 payment Sinclair made to M. T. Everhart, of Pueblo, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall.

"I made that payment for a third interest in Secretary Fall's ranch property," Sinclair said. "I paid $198,000 in Washington and $35,000 later in New York."

Asked where he got the $35,000, Sinclair said it came from his vault, but he couldn't remember which one.

Senator Walsh called the witness' attention to his testimony on October 29, 1923, that he had not purchased any property in New Mexico prior to that time.

"What have you to say about that?" he demanded.

"The testimony speaks for itself, does it not?" Sinclair replied.

"But you now tell us that you bought property in May, 1922."

Shares Not Same as Land.

"Senator Walsh, I thought at that time that you were talking about purchasing land. I bought shares in the Tres Ritos Land and Cattle Company, but I did not regard that as purchasing land."

"You don't care to say any more about that?"

Sinclair conferred with Martin W. Littleton, his counsel.

"I don't think you ought" to ask Colonel Littleton what answer to make," Walsh said.

"I didn't ask him that," Sinclair replied.

"Do you care to make any further explanation about the purchase of the stocks of the Tres Ritos Land and Cattle Company?"

"No, sir."

"Do you think you gave a frank answer to that question in 1923?"

"When I made it I thought it was frank and fair."

DR. ROSELLI LECTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY NIGHT.

The lecture by Dr. Bruno Roselli at the High School Friday night at 8:30 o'clock promises to be a most interesting one to everyone who is interested in world politics and more especially in world peace. Dr. Roselli is peculiarly fitted for voicing an opinion on this subject because he has surveyed conditions all over the globe. He has made five visits to Africa and three to Asia as well as a journey around the world in which he was brought into contact with natives and Eurasians as well as white colonists and administrators. After this extensive travel Dr. Roselli has come to the conclusion that a world war is inevitable unless the great countries of the world are willing to discard many medieval theories, pet doctrines and obsolete rights. Dr. Roselli is a particularly earnest and compelling speaker and his opinions on this vast and absorbing problem and his plans for avoiding war and securing a lasting and honorable peace are sure to be interesting and enlightening.

Col. Roosevelt To Present Flags

Colors to be Presented to Local American Legion Boy Scout Troop at Armory Friday Night.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will present the colors to Troop 10, Boy Scouts of Kingston Post, American Legion, at the armory Friday night at 8:30 o'clock. Legionnaires, Boy Scouts and the general public are cordially invited. Admission will be free.

Troop 10, which was formed by Kingston Post last September under the leadership of Scoutmaster Edward J. Leudtke, will appear for the first time on Friday night in their new uniforms. The Scouts, some with their own fathers and some with fathers adopted for the evening from the membership of the Legion, will attend the father and son banquet at the Y. M. C. A. in a body.

Through the courtesy of Chester R. Hall, boys' secretary of the "Y," the Legion has arranged to have Colonel Roosevelt present the troop flags and colors to the Legion Scouts. This will take place in the armory immediately following the father and son banquet at the "Y." Col. Roosevelt will also make an address of special interest to all Legionnaires and citizens.

It was expected to hold this ceremony in the Legion Memorial Building, but on account of the large number expected, Major O. R. Hiltbrant kindly offered the use of the armory on Friday night for this ceremony.

Colonel Roosevelt, who has a distinguished war record as a regimental commander of the A. E. F., is one of the founders of the American Legion. After the armistice, when the various A. E. F. units sent delegates to Paris to discuss the formation of a veterans' association, Roosevelt was one of the leaders.

He was delegated by the Paris caucus to return to the United States and organize the American Legion nationally and in the various states. He attacked this job with characteristic vigor and in a few months the Legion was organized and posts sprang up by the thousands all over the United States. Colonel Roosevelt was offered the honor by his comrades of being the first national commander of the American Legion. This honor he declined. He has never accepted any office in the American Legion because he intended to make politics his life's work, and he did not wish to capitalize his Legion membership for political purposes.

MAY DIVIDE ALBANY EPISCOPAL DIOCESE

Albany, May 1 (AP).—Proposed division of the Albany Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which has been under discussion since 1868 when the Rt. Rev. William C. Doane, first Bishop of Albany, advocated it, is one of the outstanding subjects for discussion at the Sixtieth Annual Diocesan convention which opens here tonight. The diocese extends from Greene county to the Canadian border, and a committee on division of ecclesiastical jurisdiction was to report at the opening session.

The Rt. Rev. Richard H. Nelson, Bishop of the diocese, and the Rt. Rev. G. Ashton Oldham, Bishop coadjutor, will speak tonight. Bishop Nelson will preside during the convention while Bishop Oldham will preside at the annual assembly of the diocesan Board of Missions and a meeting of the church extension committee today.

Should the plan for division of the diocese meet with approval it is expected that Ogdensburg will be named as diocesan seat for the new diocese, and a new bishop will be appointed. The general organization and adjustment would require several years, it was said.

GUARD RELIEVED FROM DUTY AT HARDING TOMB

Marion, Ohio, May 1 (AP).—Nearly five years of vigil at the tomb of the late President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding was at an end today for the guard detachment of the Tenth United States Infantry and for the first time since the President's death his tomb was left unwatched.

Members of the detachment were ordered to report to various Army posts.

Since the post was established August 9, 1922, it is estimated that more than 1,000,000 visitors have been shown the tomb by the guards.

BULGARIAN POLITICIAN ARRESTED IN BOMB PLOT.

Sofia, Bulgaria, May 1 (AP).—Georgi Christoff, Agrarian politician who took refuge in Yugoslavia after the fall of the Agrarian regime and took part in many raids into Bulgaria, was arrested by the police today.

Christoff has long been sought on a charge of having imported bombs used in the explosion at the Sofia Cathedral in April, 1923.

It was rumored that the arrest of several deputies, sympathizers with the Christoff cause, was impending.

Yacht Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Rondout Yacht Club will be held at 8 p. m. this evening in the club house. Officers nominated at the last meeting will be elected for the ensuing year.

Kingston-Albany Bus Line Denied

Public Service Commission Finds No Necessity for Through Traffic—Railroad Facilities Adequate for Travelers.

Albany, May 1.—The Public Service Commission Monday denied a petition by the Kingston-Albany Bus Lines, Inc., for a certificate for the operation of a bus line between Kingston and Albany.

Consents of local municipalities, where required, were granted the company, but restrictions were imposed by Kingston, Catskill, Saugerties, Coxsack and the towns of Catskill, Bethlehem and New Baltimore as to carrying passengers. It was because of these restrictions that evidence on the hearing was practically confined to transporting persons between the two terminal cities.

There was also evidence that the proposed new line would compete with the New York Central, West Shore, and six bus lines, now operating between points between Albany and Kingston. The investigation by the commission showed:

"Due to the numerous restrictions against the carrying of local passengers, travel on this line would be principally confined to the carrying of through passengers and the evidence received was confined to the necessity of such kind of transportation. This testimony as to the public need of additional transportation was not convincing and did not prove that public convenience and necessity require the operation of this line. Although there has been a considerable development in the consolidation of bus lines and in the installing of larger easier riding busses in an effort to attract long haul riders, yet the principal convenience rendered by a large majority of bus lines is the service offered in the carrying of persons from their homes to the nearest trading or business center. As this service can not be given by the proposed line it should be shown that the existing means of transportation for long distance riders is inadequate to properly meet the needs of the traveling public. There is no such evidence in this case, but on the contrary the bus line does not propose to operate nearly as many trips as the railroad."

Suit in Court Involving Radio

An action brought by Robert J. Harder of this city against Melissa and Eleanor Shultis of Chichester to recover the balance of a contract price for a radio set was taken up for trial in county court today.

Plaintiff alleged that he had sold a radio set to defendant, Melissa Shultis, and that her mother, Eleanor Shultis, had signed the contract agreement when the radio was delivered. The contract price was $260 and $20 was paid down. No other payments were made under the contract which called for monthly payments. He alleged that a radio was delivered to the home and it proved unsatisfactory and the second set was installed and the contract entered into.

The defendants allege that Mr. Harder represented the set to give satisfactory service and agreed to make it good if it did not prove satisfactory. They allege that the set failed to satisfy them and that stations did not come in on the same dial settings at all times. They allege that Mr. Harder told them they would. It is also stated that the set failed to come in clear after a short trial and reception grew worse as time passed on until some three weeks after they notified Mr. Harder to take the set out. He did not take it out but made repairs which defendants claim failed to remedy the reception. They refused to pay and he refused to take the set out. It is still in the Shultis home and they use it from time to time according to one witness. The contract was entered into late in 1924 and the set installed at that time.

Arthur B. Ewig appears for plaintiff and Thomas F. Coughlin for defendants. The case was continued this afternoon.

8 Drown When Skiff Capsizes

Uniontown, Pa., May 1 (AP).—Eight persons were drowned early today when a small boat overturned in the Monongahela river between Mason town and Greensboro. A floating log crashed into the boat and capsized it. The accident happened in the early morning hours before daylight and it was several hours before any report of the drownings was received.

The boat was used to ferry passengers across the river. There were nine persons aboard. One of them, a negro, escaped.

Among the identified dead were Robert Kennedy, in charge of the boat, and Zenith Gabbis, 22. The other victims, a white girl and a negro woman and her four children, were not identified.

A search for the bodies was being made but none had been recovered several hours after the accident.

The skiff had nearly completed the river crossing when it capsized. The river was high on account of the recent storm in southwestern Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Fliers Elated at Their Reception

New York's Welcome to Bremen Crew Surpassed Only by Reception Given to Lindbergh—Paper Blizzards Biggest Storm Encountered.

New York, May 1 (AP).—Three smiling aviators from across the Atlantic were elated today over their second big storm.

Their procession through a storm of ticker tape, torn pages of books, waste paper and confetti thrown from skyscraper windows was a reminder of the blizzard through which they won their way to Greenly Island.

As Captain Hermann Koehl said in a brief speech from the stage of the Winter Garden last night:

"The storms we encountered on our flight across the Atlantic were the worst I have ever seen. I have never before seen a snow storm such as the one we saw at Greenly Island. However, the storm of enthusiasm we have seen in New York is the biggest storm yet."

In this the German captain was seconded by his flying companions, Major James Fitzmaurice and Baron Gunther von Huenefeld.

New Yorkers Outclass Nero.

The Irish major described New York's reception as a better show than Nero ever put on in Rome.

"It would be impossible to see the like of it anywhere in Europe," he said. "I used to think that this was the land of 100 per cent business efficiency and the almighty dollar, but I know differently now. Dollar-loving and the enthusiasm you have shown us today don't go together."

The baron, who had spent the day wildly waving his cap in acknowledgment of the cheers of the packed millions, all the while keeping his monocle firmly intact, reiterated frequently that it all had been most "wonderful."

Surpassed by Lindbergh Reception.

The reception accorded the three fliers was only surpassed by that given Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh on his return from his flight to Paris.

Police estimated that 2,500,000 persons had witnessed the parade; that 1,500 tons of torn paper had been thrown, which required 1,200 men and $16,000 to clean up, and that 6,000 police were on duty keeping the high crowds in order.

The Lindbergh reception was estimated to have been witnessed by 4,000,000 persons. 1,300 tons of paper were thrown and $500 police were on duty.

SEVERAL CASES BEFORE CITY JUDGE SHUFELDT

John Hanrahan, 37, and Frank Murray, 35, both strangers, were arrested for panhandling on Wall street on Monday afternoon. They were making a nuisance of themselves stopping men, women and children linking arms with them and walking along pleading with the ones accosted to contribute. This morning Judge Shufeldt sentenced them each to ten days in jail on their plea of guilty.

Benjamin Winnie, an elderly man who said he lives with his son at Sawkill, informed Judge Shufeldt this morning that he desired to withdraw the charge of assault he had lodged against Constance Golinski on Saturday night which had led to Golinski's arrest. It was claimed that Golinski had struck Winnie on the head with a beer glass at 117 North Front street. Winnie said he had been drinking that night and today did not desire to press the charge. He had a black eye but did not say whether it was caused by the beer glass or not. Winnie's request to withdraw the complaint was granted and Golinski discharged.

ANOTHER SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED BY COUNTY JUDGE

Charles R. Saari, held by City Judge Shufeldt to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny, first degree, on a plea of guilty to the charge under an order of the court issued on an information filed with the court, was sentenced to the Elmira State Reformatory this morning in county court and the execution of sentence was suspended on representations made by the complaining witness. Saari was directed by the court to make restitution in accordance with an agreement which he had made with the complainant, and to report back to the county court on June 4 at 2 o'clock and at that time the matter of further suspending sentence would depend upon how he had lived up to his agreement with the complainant.

QUIMBY CASE RE-OPENED IN ULSTER COUNTY COURT

An action to foreclose a mechanic's lien, brought by George W. Quimby against Peter E. Nolan and wife, which was tried in county court Monday morning when a default was taken when defendant failed to put in an appearance, was re-opened when D. W. Ostrander, counsel for defendant, appeared and paid taxable costs and asked that the action be re-opened and tried at the June term. When the case was called there was no reply by defendant and Peter H. Harp, who appeared for plaintiff, took judgment in the sum of $124 by default. The action, an appeal from justice's court, was brought to recover for services by the plaintiff in the construction of a chicken coop for the defendants.

Germany Agrees, Peace Proposal

American Suggestion for Treaty Among World Powers Renouncing War Meets Prompt Acceptance—Washington Officials Pleased.

Washington, May 1 (AP).—With a declaration that "This new guarantee for the maintenance of peace must give a real impulse to the efforts for carrying out of general disarmament," Germany has agreed to the American proposal for a treaty among the world powers renouncing war.

Her answer, made without reservation or qualification, was given in a note to the United States under date of April 27 and made public last night by the State Department.

The promptness with which the German government replied to the American suggestion, which went forward only two weeks before the former's complete acceptance of the draft treaty came along, well pleased Secretary Kellogg and other officials.

They were particularly gratified because Germany had before her at the time the proposal of M. Briand embodying France's ideas for a renunciation of war treaty.

Except to say that the German note spoke for itself, Secretary Kellogg refused to comment.

Declaring Germany "welcomes most warmly the opening of negotiations for the conclusion of an international pact for the outlawry of war," the note said that while that country's League of Nations and Locarno treaty obligations must remain inviolable, nothing was seen in these pledges "which could in any way conflict with the obligations provided in the draft treaty of the United States."

"On the contrary," it added, "it (the German government) believes that the binding obligation not to use war as an instrument of national policy could only serve to strengthen the fundamental idea of the covenant of the League of Nations and of the Rhine pact."

Germany agreed with the United States and France that the "ultimate goal must be the universality of the pact."

Alsace-Lorraine Autonomy Is Up

Leaders in Movement Placed on Trial Charged With Plotting Against Safety of the State.

Colmar, France, May 1 (AP).—Autonomy for Alsace and Lorraine, regained by France from Germany in the World War, was an issue in a trial by jury here today. Dr. Eugene Ricklin and M. Rosse, a schoolmaster, whose separatist policies the voters of Alsace approved by electing them to the Chamber of Deputies on Sunday, were charged with thirteen comrades with plotting against the safety of the state.

The object of the autonomists is to make Alsace and Lorraine into a separate and independent republic. The movement started ten years ago. It was supported by the extreme clericals and was alleged to have been helped by Germany. It recently grew to such serious proportions by the exploitation of cases of discontent, generally regarded as inevitable in the change of the local regime from German to French, that the government was obliged to act drastically.

Fifteen leaders were arrested. Seven others succeeded in escaping. The indictment charged that Dr. Ricklin was the head and soul of the movement. He perfected an organization which reached every corner of the two provinces.

In addition to carrying on propaganda, a military organization was formed to launch revolutionary action when the time was ripe.

With the elections approaching a party was formed known as Autonomische Partei. Candidates were put up in a number of constituencies and in many cases they worked hand in glove with the Communists. If elected, the separatist candidates planned to refuse to sit at Paris and address an appeal to the League of Nations, invoking the right of peoples to order their own destinies.

Penalty for the offenses charged is imprisonment in a fortress.

N. Y. Democrats Condemn Walsh

New York, May 1 (AP).—The Democratic State Committee in a statement issued from Governor Smith's campaign headquarters, condemns the use by Senator Thomas A. Walsh of his Congressional franking privileges in circulating campaign material in California.

The statement charged Senator Walsh with franking copies of a letter by William G. McAdoo to every registered Democratic voter in California. Information concerning the practice was sent Smith headquarters by Isidore B. Rockwell of Los Angeles, who also said that Senator Walsh's supporters had been circulating the state with anti-Tammany cartoons which he described as "malicious in character and utterly contemptible in content."

He said a letter from former Governor Gardner of Missouri in support of Senator Reed was being sent to California voters under the frank of Representative C. C. Dickinson.

Stepdaughter Halts Trial of Mrs. Knapp

Court Adjourns Until Wednesday When Principal Witness for Prosecution Refuses to Obey Subpoena Whose Validity Will be Tested by Vermont Lawyers—Prosecution Announces Mrs. Knapp Will be Tried on All Indictments.

With the suddenness of an exploding shell, the trial of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, on a charge of grand larceny of 1925 state census monies, was disrupted today by the refusal of the prosecution's chief witness to answer the state's subpoena from Vermont and adjournment of the trial until 10 a. m., tomorrow.

Miss Clara Blanche Knapp, stepdaughter of the defendant, is the witness and her duty of the state of New York came through a telegram from a firm of Rutland, Vt., lawyers to George Z. Medalle, special deputy attorney general in charge of the prosecution. The telegram, timed 8:30 a. m., today, from Lawrence, Stafford and Bloomer, informed Mr. Medalle they had been retained to "test the validity of the subpoena" for Miss Knapp and they understood Miss Knapp would not attend the court proceedings today.

Lawyers' Information Limited.

"Did you know about this?" Justice Stephen Callaghan, presiding, asked Patrick C. Dugan of Mrs. Knapp's counsel.

Mr. Dugan shook his head.

"Did you?" the judge asked John J. Conway, associated with Mr. Dugan.

"I had no information except that she would not be here," Mr. Conway answered.

Bombshell Had Been Promised.

Justice Callaghan looked searchingly at the defense counsel as he continued:

"Mr. Levitz (Robert P. Levitz of Mrs. Knapp's counsel) called on me a short time ago and said he had a bombshell to explode. Later he told me this woman would not appear here today. I don't know any reason for this, after assurance that every person would be here."

Court to Seek Reasons

Looking straight at Mrs. Knapp, sitting between her counsel, the judge continued:

"I hope the defendant has had nothing to do with this. We shall take such steps as are necessary to inquire into the reasons why this woman is not here and who has advised her not to appear."

Turning to Mr. Medalle, he asked: "What do you wish to do?"

Other Witnesses Absent

Mr. Medalle suggested that a brief recess be ordered. The judge then suggested that it be ascertained whether other witnesses were on hand.

"Charles Hubbell Smith," called Mr. Medalle. He is Mrs. Knapp's brother, former principal of the Hornell High School and now a resident of Massachusetts.

There was no response. "Heien D. Smith," Mr. Medalle called. She is Charles Hubbell Smith's wife.

Again there was no response. Mr. Medalle, however, stated that because of the quantity of testimony expected from the chief witness it had hardly been expected to get beyond her today.

"Well?" Justice Callaghan said.

Medalle Asks Adjournment

"I suggest an adjournment until tomorrow morning—no longer," said Mr. Medalle.

"I am sorry to have to grant it," Justice Callaghan remarked, adding that he would like to confer with counsel for both sides. They retired to the justice's chamber.

There was a decided stir in the crowded courtroom as the justice and attorneys retired. The cryer jumped to the front and ordered all to keep their seats.

After a few minutes the judge returned to the bench and the attorneys to their seats. Mr. Medalle repeated his request for an adjournment and Justice Callaghan complied, fixing 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. He instructed the clerk to have all witnesses and the 150 veniremen impounded for the trial jury on hand. The clerk called the formal announcement and court was adjourned.

Prosecution Promises Prompt Action

Mr. Medalle announced immediate steps to compel the attendance of Mrs. Knapp.

"We will test the validity of the Vermont statutes today," Mr. Medalle said. District Attorney Sanford of Vermont will apply whatever criminal statutes there are in Vermont and will test their validity. The matter will be taken to the appropriate authorities in Vermont, and action will be begun today.

"We have infinite patience."

Proceedings Moved Rapidly.

The whole day's proceedings, expected to drag into a night session, transpired with a rapidity which fairly took the breath from those in the court room. It was 10:02 when the familiar "Hear Ye!" called the

Egypt Yields To Ultimatum

Egyptian Parliament Postpones Until November Further Discussion of Public Assembly Bill—Tension Between Nations Lessens.

London, May 1 (AP).—Tension between Great Britain and Egypt lessened today with the decision of the Egyptian Parliament to postpone further discussion of the public assemblies bill.

British warships were racing toward Egyptian waters and an ultimatum had been sent demanding that the Egyptian government withdraw the bill before 7 p. m., tomorrow, when the Egyptian Parliament acted.

The postponement of discussion of the measure until November was believed to have been taken at the dictation of the Egyptian government in secret session. The bill already had passed the Chamber and was to come before the Senate when the British acted. The British objection was based on a section which it was claimed endangered the lives of foreigners in that it provided police could not end public meetings unless there was actual disorder or unless those holding the meeting requested intervention.

The British ultimatum demanded of the Egyptian premier, Nahas Pasha, assurance in writing that the bill would not be proceeded with, otherwise the British would consider themselves free "to take such action as the situation may seem to require."

What form the official British reaction will take will not be known until Sir Aust

Post-War Flapper No Longer Leader

Modern Trend Back to Femininity, Says Columbia Expert—Skirts Longer and Fuller—Feminine Lines to Predominate.

Mrs. Evelyn Tobey, head of the department of millinery, Columbia Teachers' College, speaking before an audience of 200 Home Bureau women that crowded the court rooms of the court house in Kingston Thursday in her famous "Tip To Toe" lecture, pointed out the modern trend in fashions. The morning session was given over to hair dressing. Volunteers were called for and many responded—women who have problems—some with bobbed hair, some with long.

Care of Scalp and Hair.

In her introductory remarks preceding the actual hair dressing demonstration, Mrs. Tobey emphasized the care of the scalp and hair. She pointed out that the most beautiful hair—a woman's crowning glory—will have lost its glory if not kept clean. The beautiful soft lustre is not there, the soft lines necessary for the proper setting for the face are lost and an otherwise attractive woman may appear unattractive. "Just as an artist makes lines on canvas," said Mrs. Tobey, "so does every stroke of the comb make lines of the hair, and what those lines are to be determined by the shape of the head and the face and the lines of the features." As if by magic, Mrs. Tobey changed with a few strokes of the comb some most unbecoming coiffures into models of grace and beauty.

"Tip to Toe" Lecture.

For almost three hours in the afternoon, Mrs. Tobey held her audience spellbound, and it looked for a time as if the court room would not seat the crowd that came in to hear her. She began her lecture with some of the more fundamental things that make for attractiveness.

Character and Personality Paramount

She pointed out that charm does not all come from dress. Without character and personality the best groomed women in the most artistic clothes are not attractive. Women must develop charm of spirit and body. Proper exercise is necessary to keep the muscles firm and shapely. Proper diet is absolutely essential to maintain that glow of health so essential to attractiveness. Overweight and underweight are problems that often need medical advice and must be corrected. "Get your self right, is the first thing in your life," said Mrs. Tobey, "and you will not have to think so much about clothes." Mrs. Tobey then pointed out the psychological effect of clothes, the great satisfaction one receives—the satisfaction of courage and independence, and that nothing is more conducive to an inferiority complex than the feeling that one is not well groomed.

Put Brains into Selection

Mrs. Tobey called attention to the fact that the women of America are spending $500,000,000 a year for clothing. They must realize this responsibility and must put brains into an undertaking so vast. She stressed the wearing of simple tailored garments, simple felt hats and the importance of accessories that make the smart woman. "Elaborate hats, not elaborate women," said Mrs. Tobey.

Flapper No Longer Leads

Turning then to the modern trend in fashions Mrs. Tobey pointed out the fact that the flapper that developed after the war no longer dictates the fashions. The 1928 woman is not the woman of 1917. We have the business woman today, charming and capable, but thinking for herself. Clothes are fashioned to suit her, not boyish, not flapperish but much more feminine. Skirts are longer—four inches below the knees—and are much fuller. Dresses are narrow through the shoulders, many have no arm holes, if so very high, and dresses are tight at the hips. Waists are not as loose as formerly and are not trimmed. All dresses have belts.

Sleeves are long and tight and snug at the wrist. French dresses have rows of little buttons with tab above wrist. Bell sleeves are in vogue, but are not good for short, stout women. Short sleeves are worn only by those who are athletic and are appropriate only on tennis court or golf links. In that case a coat goes with the costume. Skirts are very full. Pleating on sports dresses is deep. Uncut hem lines are quite in vogue. Hats have crowns like a ball cut off at the bottom. Crowns are shallow. Hats are brimless in the back, but brims may widen on the sides. All hats are soft, no wire frames.

Accessories Important

"Our greatest failure," said Mrs. Tobey, "is not making everything correspond. Jewelry, scarfs, bags, stockings, shoes, gloves—all must be worn with the effect of the whole costume in mind. We no longer buy a hat. We buy a costume—hat, suit, shoes, etc. The ensemble idea is paramount." Mrs. Tobey stressed the importance of dressing conservatively. Whether one has a million dollars to spend for clothes, or ten, she advised the use of quiet colors—tan, gray, black, and dark blue—and the wearing of black or brown shoes.

After the lecture many crowded about for further information and there were expressions everywhere, "Wasn't she splendid?" "Can we have her again next year?" "How fortunate we were to have her in 'Flater County.'" Every organized Home Bureau unit in the county was represented. It was reported that communities in the upper Hudson Valley chartered the largest bus they could get to bring the ladies from that section.

"Care of Fine Fabrics." The most outstanding feature of the program for this week in Home Bureau circles are the demonstrations on "The Care of Fine Fabrics" to be given in two centers in the county. Mrs. Florence C. Boone, of Colgate & Co. has been secured for these demonstrations. It is believed that these demonstrations are to be the most valuable that the communities of the Home Bureau have enjoyed for some time. Mrs. Boone explains the chemistry of the removal of spots and stains and demonstrates before the class how the most stubborn stains are removed. She also demonstrates the washing in soap and water of the finest silk and woolen garments, demonstrating how garments containing many colors can be washed without the colors running.

The first meeting will be held at Stone Ridge in the Stone Ridge Grange hall, Thursday afternoon, May 3, beginning at 2 o'clock standard time. This meeting is for the communities of High Falls, Stone Ridge, Lomontville and Hurley.

Committeewomen from other communities are also invited to attend.

The second meeting will be held in Hasbrouck Memorial hall, Modena, Friday afternoon, May 4, at 2 o'clock standard time. It is for the communities of Modena and Gardiner and for committeewomen from New Paltz.

 KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 1, 1928.

The progress of American railroad building is shown strikingly by a chart in the bulletin of the National City Bank of New York. In 1899 our railroads recorded about 70 billion ton-miles. For 1900 the chart shows 145 billion ton-miles; for 1910, about 250 billion ton-miles; for 1920, over 400 billion ton-miles; and at the peak, in 1926-7, about 450 billion ton-miles. Thus railroad traffic multiplied six times in less than 40 years. Still more surprising: Only once in this long period have there been two declining years in succession—those of 1914 and 1915, when war killed business. "Unless the record of the past proves a false guide," concludes the bulletin, "our loadings this year will exceed those of last year, which in itself would be an evidence of business recovery."

RADIO REFORM.

The National Association of Broadcasters, the Federated Radio Trade Association and the Radio Manufacturers' Association have come to an understanding and are presenting a united front to the federal radio commission. They propose that the commission eliminate 145 of the broadcasting stations now operating under licenses. That would leave 110 stations in each of the five zones.
 Then, taking second thought, they submit an alternative plan by which the commission would allow each zone 140 stations temporarily, and reduce them toward the ideal 110 station minimum as rapidly as "practical considerations" will permit.
 "It may be necessary to follow this procedure because of the practical objections made every time it is proposed to abolish any broadcasting station. No matter how small, feeble or local the station, it always has business champions and sentimental patrons to defend it and aid it to perpetuity as a pest."

If there is to be any real cutting, however, and any effective clearing of the air, it may make less trouble in the long run to proceed drastically now and have the agony over with.

A DIVIDED PUBLIC.

It is widely supposed, and there is much effort to convey still more widely the impression, that the opponents of Federal prohibition, or the "wets" so called, are mostly a lot of "bums" and alcoholics whose views are of no importance. Those thus persuaded are apt to be greatly surprised, if not incredulous, if they should happen to see the list of directors announced by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, to guide the political activities of that organization. For it suggests the membership of a body organized to forward some great educational, philanthropic or patriotic movement. Included in this list are the president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the directing mind of the General Motors, the heads of the Carnegie Institute and of the New York Academy of Medicine, and a large number of other leaders of the financial, industrial, commercial and educational life of the country.

Of course it is possible to show an equally imposing list of prominent persons who believe the 18th amendment to be desirable and wise, but that would merely prove how sharply representative Americans and the masses of the people are divided on this question. It is this great division of sentiment that makes the problem so grave.

NO PUBLIC "WRATH."

The acquittal of Sinclair by the Washington trial jury, after the Supreme Court had found him guilty along with Fall of "fraud and conspiracy," has resulted in a paraphrase of an ancient text to the effect that it would seem to be easier to drive an ox through a keyhole than to punish an offender of great wealth. But there are observers of the opinion that, notwithstanding this acquittal, "the wrath of the American people" will make itself felt. According to Frank R. Kent, Washington correspondent, some observers there believe that "the spectacle of a freed and defiant Sinclair, with his truculent lawyers, fat fees in their pockets, presenting themselves after their victory, and after a second moment's pause to react against the Republican party at the polls," their idea being that "the voters will render their own verdict against Sinclair and, incidentally against the party with which he was identified, which profited by his money and was the beneficiary along with Fall of his generosity with Continental Trading Company bonus."

But Mr. Kent is far from sharing this view. "There is no evidence at all," he says, "that there exists any such popular indignation. On the contrary, there has been ample demonstration not only of lack of indignation but lack of understanding. The idea that the acquittal of Sinclair will make either the thinking or the unthinking Republican voters mad enough to bolt their party is entirely fanciful." Mr. Kent warns the Democrats that "there is no possibility of making a dent with the corruption issue" and that "it makes no real difference politically whether Sinclair is jailed or not." The disclosure of the long trail of corruption has indeed caused "disgust" among the better class of Republicans, but neither they, nor even the associated "so-called independents" reveal the least disposition to "rebuke" the Republican party at the polls. And this view of the matter, says the correspondent named, is generally and confidently held by the "practical politicians."

MAY DAY, PLAY DAY.

Naturally the first thought in a parent's mind should be and is the health of the child.

If he is not gaining weight regularly as the months go by, if he appears to be listless most of the time, if his school reports are not what you would like to see, if he seems more irritable than he has any right to be, then it is certainly your duty to get busy and investigate the matter.

If the family doctor after overhauling him says that there is no organic condition needing attention, then you can go ahead yourself adjusting things.

Perhaps he is indoors too much, sitting around reading when he should be outdoors playing. Or perhaps in the kindness of your heart you are letting him attend the movies too often, and stay till the last "show" is over, which thus shortens his hours of sleep and rest.

Perhaps in the kindness of your heart also, you allow him to pick and choose his food which may be mostly meat and desert, and little or no vegetables.

Remember if your doctor tells you he is sound, and yet he isn't gaining in strength there are just the three things to watch: his food, his rest, and his play or exercise.

When you were a youngster you thought of May Day as a play day; flowers, games, and all the gladness of Spring.
 However now May Day is being recognized as Child Health Day with the American Child Health Association, endeavoring to interest everybody in the health of the child.
 On this day they try to estimate the effectiveness of their work of the past year and to plan new and better things for the oncoming year. They try to interest the child itself, the parent, the teacher, the physician, the nurse, and the food expert. The day is to be spent with a full program of song, play and dance. So if you watch his food and sleep carefully and he isn't gaining, it is very likely that he isn't getting enough of the play outdoors.

Standard of English
Speech Not Possible

A recognized authority on English words and speech recently said: "Not long ago a conference was held in London for the purpose of arriving at a universal standard for English speech. At one time I believed that it was impossible.
 "Later, the subject was brought to my attention by prominent educators. Under the stress of arguments presented to me I weakened in my judgment, and was willing to go on record as saying that it might be possible to standardize English speech, but after two years of close study of the whole subject I feel that my first judgment was right.
 "It is an impossible to standardize the sounds in American and English speech with the hope of having the standardization accepted throughout the English-speaking world as it is to stem the tide of the sea."

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

WASTING TIME

THERE is one thing that you can do to save the greatest waste of time in the world. A waste of time, one second is as unrepentable as the waste of eternity.
 Yet thousands of men and women go through life wasted, not only of their own precious moments, but whole in moments of the value of other people's time.

The great trouble with too many is that they put no value at all on time. They waste the hands of the clock around with as little regard for the ticking hour as for a passing wind.
 For a spent dollar another may be earned to take its place. For the lost friend another may be gained. But for the hour that is gone, for the minute that is wasted, there is no supplying a substitute, no replacement. It is gone forever.
 It was TIME, not guns nor generals, that won and lost at Waterloo. And Napoleon was not alone among the great generals who were defeated by the clock.
 "Give us time," said a great scientist, "and we can solve every problem the world offers us."

We can heap up wealth. We cannot store away one moment.

We can gain power and assemble armies. We cannot go one second back or forward from the present.

Yesterday is as if it never existed. Tomorrow is as useless today as if it were a century away.

Frederick the Great had a maxim which he borrowed from the wisdom of Seneca: "Time is the only treasure of which it is proper to be avaricious."

Every man and woman should be stingy of every moment. And they should recognize the value of every other person's time.

Life is composed of only two things: Time and effort. One is useless without the other. Both should be as nearly 100 per cent productive as we are able to make them.

Try as best we may, the end of life will find us with many things undone.

No man ever wholly completed the task allotted to him. There is a reasonable excuse if into our use of time no waste creeps.

For the man who wastes his own time or steals another's, there is neither excuse nor valid reason. He has wantonly destroyed what neither man nor the Creator Himself can restore or replace.

Put a value on every minute. Be as anxious and as certain to get that value as you are to gain the worth of your dimes and your dollars.

Remember that once a minute has passed by it is gone FOREVER.

THE WAY OF A HEALTHFUL DAY

A morning dish of ALL-BRAN prevents constipation

Clear eyes. Fresh complexion. Brisk spirits. They all come when the right kind of food is eaten. One of the main things that our modern diet lacks is the roughage necessary to prevent constipation, which is the cause of so much ill health.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will furnish the bulk you need to keep well and fit.

ALL-BRAN is 100 per cent bran. It supplies roughage in effective quantities. Far better than part-bran products. At best, they can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed.

THE DOCTOR'S LAMENT

Last night when others were at rest I rode about, and did my best To save some patients called by fate, From traveling through the Golden Gate. This morn'ning when the news I spied, I thought they might as well have died: "Two Hundred Injured in a Wreck," "Man Falls, Sustains a Broken Neck," "Grade Crossing Murders Twenty-two," "Five Killed by Falling Airplane," "Gas Blast Takes Lives of Twenty-three," "Three shot by Mobs, Now Insane," "Two Die 'Neath Falling Apple Tree." All night I toiled to save one life, And outlived the useless strife. What can it help to make one well, While thousands hearken to death's knell? What boots my little recompense? Why can't the world have common sense?

Housecleaning is Easy with Hot Water!

With the new blue of the sky, the budding trees, the returning robins, and the other heralds of spring comes the prosaic thought to the housewife that spring cleaning time is being ushered in. Pails, brooms, dust cloths and brushes drafted into service try to make quick work of a necessary evil.

The house which is equipped with a continuous supply of hot water becomes spick and span with little effort and less time. A gas storage water heater in the house means a constant supply of hot water for every household duty—pailful for scrubbing, window washing and other housecleaning needs.

Monday Bridge Club.

Mrs. Henry Bowman LeFerre entertained the N. S. V. Club last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Deyo, who recently moved into their newly purchased home on South Chestnut street, received a week-end visit from their two sons, William Perry Deyo and Ralph Edward Deyo, of New York city. As both are radio experts they seized the opportunity to set up their mother's set which had been dismantled since moving from the city. Mr. Deyo's sons are conducting the wholesale provision business in New York city from which he recently retired.

The funeral of Mrs. Cornelia D. LeFerre, who died on Thursday at her home in Middletown, was held on Saturday at 2 o'clock at the residence of her brother, Perry Deyo, on Plattekill avenue, this village.

On Friday, May 4, the Arts and Crafts Clubs of New Paltz Normal will give a card party and dance in the gymnasium. Tables will be arranged to play bridge and "500" from 7:30 to 9:30. From 9:30 to 11:30 the scene will change to the hall where all may participate in the synchronized strains of a favored orchestra. At this party the work of the members of the club will be on display which consists of batik, wooden and leather articles.

The Rev. E. D. Miner had charge of the program at the social held in the Reformed Church parlors on Thursday evening of last week and proved himself adept. Musical numbers alternated with games of various kinds. For music there were three solos by Mr. Berago, violinist, Miss Edna Rider played the saxophone with Miss Kirkpatrick at the piano. There was a vocal solo by Mrs. Fred Dressler. Mrs. Seward and Mrs. Miner played two piano duets, "Dragon Fighter" and "A Shower of Stars" and Edward Baldwin played the xylophone. Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were enjoyed.

The Middletown Extension Class in Modern Drama, under the direction of Professor Bennett of the New Paltz Normal, planned a trip to New York on Saturday, April 28. There were arrangements made for the class to see "Paris Bound", a play written by Philip Barry.

The Long Island Club tea dance was held May 1.

Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. Daniel Lawrence and son called on Mr. and Mrs. William Minard at Ohioville on Sunday afternoon.

Friday chapel at the Normal School was sponsored by the Junior Class who for their entertainment put on a fine radio performance. Walter Taylor was the announcer, and the first number was three violin solos by Perry Berago accompanied on the piano by Miss Sammis. The second feature was "The Two Black Knights". This act was most delightful and fun provoking, put on by Lonsdale and Oakley.

Last Thursday was the night set apart for one of Mr. Bennett's famous plays. Clio certainly exceeded all expectations in the production of "Meet the Wife". The auditorium was filled with people and all were pleased with the acting. Compliments especially fell to Miss Peggy Wood, who acted so exceedingly difficult part with grace and ease.

Miss Sarah Deyo was hostess to the

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)
Carried along on the crest of a six-game winning streak, Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics were crowned champions of the American League today.

After a disastrous start that saw them lose their first four games, the tribe of Metallurgy suddenly found themselves and bowled over the New York Yankees in two games, Washington in three and Boston in the opening game of the series at the Hub yesterday.

During these victories, the Athletics have scored 19 runs on 61 hits, made but one error, and allowed the enemy only 10 tallies.

Rube Walberg, one-half of the great left-handed team of Grove and Walberg, held the Red Sox to six hits and fanned a half dozen in the Athletics' 4 to 1 victory yesterday. Hunched hits off Charlie Ruffing in the fifth and ninth innings accounted for all of the Athletics' runs.

The Yankees retained their hold on first place by giving the Senators their seventh straight defeat at Washington, 8 to 4. Five errors by Gills and Reeves, young Keystone combination of the Senators, were material aid for the Yankees. George Pipgras was shelled off the mound in the fifth, but Wiley Moore held Washington safe the rest of the way.

Buckeye and Brown were pounded for 14 hits as the St. Louis Browns trounced the Indians at Cleveland, 10 to 3. Blasholder shut out the Indians until the ninth. Eddie Morgan, promising recruit who was hurt in Cleveland's opening game of the season, returned to the game as a pinch hitter and drove in one of the three runs the Indians scored in the ninth.

Detroit suffered a 10 to 6 beating at Chicago as the White Sox hammered four Tiger pitchers for 14 hits. Red Faber made his first mound start of the year and received credit for the victory despite the fact that he was driven from the mound by a Tiger rally in the fifth. Bill Cissell, costly Sox shortstop, hit safely in his thirteenth consecutive game.

Brooklyn found its grip on first place in the National League shaved to half a game as the New York Giants buried the Robins under a 14 to 4 score at the Polo Grounds. Jess Petty, silver-thatched Dodger left hander, was rechecked for eight hits and 25 runs in the first three innings. Mack and Brown hit home runs for the Giants while the Browns' speed, Brooklyn's and with his fourth straight game of the season. Harvey Hendrick had seven assists at third base for the Robins, but muffed the eighth.

Several Cardinal errors enabled the Cincinnati Reds to beat St. Louis, 6 to 1, at the Mount City. Wm. Willis Skene was forced to stand by and see his teammates throw away a six-hit game.

Hughie Cruz got the Reds' first home run of the season when Willie Hafeley, holding his drive, crashed against a concrete pavilion. Hafeley suffered slight concussion of the brain and was removed to a hospital. "Sparky" Adams' single in the eighth gave the Pittsburgh Pirates one run and an 8 to 7 verdict over the Chicago Cubs at Forbes Field.

Adams, who came to the Pirates in the trade that sent Kiki Cuyler to the Cubs, drove in three runs all told. Strangely enough, Cuyler was the star of the Cubs' attack and defense.

The Boston Braves scored in every inning but the fifth in trouncing the Quakers at Philadelphia, 13 to 6. Boston's nine hits included four home runs.

JOE VOSDICK TO MEET FRANK PONZO, MAY 11.

Joe Vosdick of Saugerties is scheduled to meet Frank Ponzo of the 369th Infantry at the armory bouts on Friday, May 11. Vosdick, although he has not fought in this vicinity for over a year, has been active around New Jersey and is said to be in good form. Ponzo appeared here at the armory against Billy Tok in one of the first boxing shows of the season. Tok won the encounter. It is said both Iroy and Dewey Van Buren will meet strong opponents, not yet named, on the next card, and that Jimmy Ambrose is negotiating with "Red" Mosher of Newburgh, one of the flashiest men in the army circles to appear in the main attraction.

"Y" Duck Pin League.
The Y. M. C. A. bowling alleys will be kept open until late in June and during the warm months a duck pin league will be conducted. It is expected that most of the men who bowled at the "Y" the past winter will register to enjoy the sport. The four highest scorers will be given a prize at the end of the season.

HELEN WILLS CANCELS MATCHES, STAYS IN BED.
Paris, May 1 (AP).—A cold which Helen Wills caught in coming to Europe, has developed into bronchitis and she has been ordered to bed for a complete rest of several days.

Acting on the advice of her doctor she cancelled tennis matches she was to play in Berlin on Thursday and Friday.
The California girl has no fever and had a good sleep last night. Her doctor told her, however, that in this climate, which is extremely changeable, she would have to be careful, and therefore she was remaining in her hotel room today.

Miss Wills said this morning that she thought she would be well enough after a few days to fulfill her engagements at Amsterdam on May 10, 11 and 12.

To Find Bowling Champ.

A contest to decide who is the champion bowler of the city will be held at the Y. M. C. A. in the near future and it is expected that approximately 15 pinmen will compete. After rolling for high score the bowler registering the highest will enter an elimination tournament. Prizes will be awarded the winners. Entry blanks may be obtained by those who wish to enter from the custodian of the alleys, Tom Burke.

BASEBALL NOTES

Throughout the United States there are about 10,000 men playing in baseball clubs for money.

Jim Wilson, a semi-pro catcher of Boston, has signed with Des Moines of the Western league for this season.

Adolfo Luque, the Cuban hurler, is the oldest pitcher with the Cincinnati Reds. He is thirty-seven years old.

Ray Sherid, Albright college athlete star, will report to the New York Yankees in June, following the close of the school term.

Roy "Snaps" Hansen, southpaw pitcher, has been turned back to the Reading club of the International league by the Chicago Cubs.

Three former members of University of Alabama baseball teams are now with Washington—Grant Gillie, Emil Barnes and Jack Hayes.

Pitcher Carl Spencer, obtained by the Atlanta Crackers from Savannah, has been forwarded to Macon, the Atlanta farm in the Sally league.

Doug Wycoff, former Georgia Tech football star, who tried out with Washington, has been farmed out to the Atlanta Southern association club.

Sam Byrd, rookie outfielder, who probably will be retained by the Yankees this season, shoots a mean game of golf. He keeps low in the seventies.

One of the most promising youngsters uncovered by Pittsburgh this year is Fred Fussell, pitcher with Wichita Falls in the Texas league last year.

The Yanks bare their teeth when they've got a chance at world series meat. These spring scores might look good in the paper but there is no glory in them.

Elmer Gray, an infielder-outfielder who tried to make it with the Springfield Midglens of the Western association last season but failed, has signed for another trial.

Ramel Alvarez, who pitched for Macon in the Sally league last season, has signed with Tampa of the South-eastern. He is expected to be one of the aces of the Smoker crew.

American baseball players might well envy the long professional life enjoyed by some of the cricketers in England. Quaffle, one of the best-known professionals, is fifty-five years of age.

Ernie Nevers, all-America fullback in 1925, at present a member of the St. Louis Browns pitching staff, has been added to Pop Warner's football coaching staff at Stanford university.

Hug Henry, Hugh Martin and Clyde Hickman, all of Fairmont State college in West Virginia, will report to the Rocky Mountain club of the Eastern Carolina league at the close of school in June.

Gabby Street, former Washington catcher, estimates that he has caught about 2,700 games since he broke into the professional game in 1902. Gabby, who has seen 45 summers pass, worked in 68 games in the Sally league last season.

KINGSTON TO PLAY BEACON WEDNESDAY

The Kingston High School varsity squad will play Beacon High School at the Kingston Fair Grounds Wednesday afternoon. The Kingston boys have one victory to their credit this season. They beat Highland High School last Wednesday afternoon at the Fair Grounds, 16-6.

Last Saturday Kingston was scheduled to play Newburgh at Newburgh but due to rain the game was postponed. Tuesday afternoon Coach Kias is going to give his men a workout for they have had a five days' rest now. If the weather is as cold this Wednesday as it was last week, the coach will have to supply his men with overcoats and mittens if he expects them to stay on the field.

Peter Jordan, the umpire, said it wasn't so hot standing on the field umpiring.

Joyce, Kingston's southpaw, will be on the mound and the following men will probably be used by the coach: Jones, Merrill, Moynihan, Miller, Clarke, Minasian, McTague and Fisher.

Bar Non Club Wins.
The Bar Non Club defeated the DeCicco Bears 8-5 in a baseball game at Barmann's lot, Sunday afternoon.

The Bar Non Club is a fully uniformed outfit, which would like to book games with teams in this city. Managers, who wish to arrange contests may call Frank McKittrick, 1873-R or write to A. Orgastine, 504 Wilbur avenue.

Martin Sheridan, the Irish-American A. C. weight thrower and all-around athlete, has won five Olympic championships.

Home racing in and around Lexington, Ky., dates back to 1787, when contests frequently were broken up by Indian raiders.

Benny Leonard, former world lightweight champion, is one of the very few individuals who have retired undefeated and never returned to the ring to lose.

William W. Raper of Philadelphia, member of the Princeton University football team, has been elected president of the American Clerical association.

Sharkey Weeps as He Kayos Delaney

Former Heavyweight Champ Scums Bridgeport Fighter to Meet Joe Referee's Count in Seventy-three Seconds.

(By Edward J. Neill.)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 1 (AP).—The storm of the old Jack Sharkey, furious youngster who once smashed his way to the very door of the heavyweight throne room, has swept again through Madison Square Garden.

Like a tornado in human form, the garrulous gob swept out of his corner last night and crushed Jack Delaney as if the Bridgeport warrior, himself a disappointed title contender, epitomized all the humiliation and heartbreaks of defeats that had come to Sharkey since Jack Dempsey knocked him out last summer.

Only one minute and 13 seconds of the first round was the dulled rapier of the north able to last before Sharkey's crushing drive. Almost before the echoes of the opening gong had died, a volley of short hooks to the head dropped Delaney, badly hurt, to one knee.

Snarling, bitter, tigerish in his ferocity, Sharkey leapt into his wobbly foe, telling him with a looping right to the head. Then as Delaney writhed on the canvas, pulled himself to his knees, and swayed finally to his feet, Sharkey waited, right hand poised.

Right Uppercut Fells Delaney.
Full on the chin, with power sufficient to fell an ox, the rampaging sailor ripped a right uppercut flush into Delaney's twisted features as the trembling French-Canadian, eyes closed, head buried in his chest, stumbled forward.

No fighter could have risen from that snail blow.

Down into the resin dust, blood trickling from his mouth and ear, Delaney toppled like a tree cut off at the base. The force of the blow jutted his red mouth piece half out between his lips, a grotesque picture as Delaney rubbed his face in the canvas, and fought subconsciously to regain control of his muscles and numbed brain.

Sharkey Snarls and Weeps.
Above the fallen fighter, now still as the referee finished the count of ten, Sharkey snarled, tears of pure ferocity and pent-up feeling rolling down his cheeks. As the crowd of 15,000 roared their acclaim of him after almost a year of boos and hisses, Sharkey turned his face defiantly to them, the wetness still on his cheeks.

Delaney never struck a blow in his own defense. Vainly, after an initial, futile stab with a left as the round opened, the statuesque Canadian woodsman retreated blindly, arms about his head and body, vainly trying to ward off the shock of Sharkey's deadly attack. But so vicious was the charge of the fierce gob, so deadly his punching, that Delaney probably never knew what struck him.

Bremen Filers In Crowd.
In the crowd about the arena were Baron Huenfeldt, Hermann Koehl and Major Fitzmaurice transatlantic fliers, viewing a spectacle of this kind for the first time. And in the crush of the delirious reception given Sharkey as the bout ended, they were forgotten.

The disastrous defeat ended Delaney's short and disappointing career as a heavyweight. The Bridgeport warrior relinquished his light heavyweight crown to engage the fellows only to lose his first major chance against Tom Heener. If Delaney returns to the ring, he probably will attempt to regain his 175-pound crown from Tommy Loughran. Delaney was little more than a light heavyweight last night, conceding 14 pounds to Sharkey, who scaled 192.

Expect Big Vote In California

Voters Choosing Delegates to National Political Convention—Three Candidates in Democratic Fight—Hoover Unopposed.

San Francisco, May 1, AP.—With fair weather forecast as aid to turning out a heavy vote, Californians today cast their ballots in the Presidential primary for the Democratic nomination, a Republican and a Prohibitionist.

The three named Democratic contestants were Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, and Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana. To the victor, political uncertainties centered, may go the nomination at Houston in June.

The Democratic race is so uncertain that it is possible, but not probable, may result in the election of a split ticket. Thirty delegates will be elected, eight being delegates-at-large and having only one vote each. It is possible for the delegates on one candidate's ticket to receive more votes than the individual candidate of an opposition ticket. Observers said there was a bare possibility of the three Democrats dividing the 24 votes.

Herbert Hoover, a favorite son, was unopposed in his bid for the Republican delegates to the Kansas City convention. Daniel A. Quinn of New York, Prohibition candidate, also had no opposition for his party's 24 delegates.

Democratic managers issued statements today declaring their candidates would win, while supporters of Secretary Hoover appealed to the Republicans to roll up a huge vote.

For his effort throughout the campaign, the result of the Democratic contest will be in doubt until the last ballots are counted, was the opinion expressed by most observers.

MAKING PROGRESS ON NEW POUGHKEEPSIE BRIDGE

According to reports 75 per cent of the steel and other materials for the new Poughkeepsie bridge has been received. It is said the structure, upon which pulling forces have been applied, has not moved from the 40-degree angle to which it tilted last July. Work is rapidly progressing on the west caisson. It is thought that the work of the west approach to the bridge will be completed by July 15. The grade for this has been established and concrete will be poured within a short time. David Robertson & Company has the contract for the building of the road, which will form a direct route to the main state highway between Newburgh and Kingston.

Baptist Classes to Meet.
The Barre and Philanthropic Classes of the Wurts Street Baptist Sunday school will hold their regular monthly business and social meeting at the parsonage this evening at 8 o'clock and a large attendance of the members of both classes is desired.

Process of Briquetting

In briquetting charcoal it has been found necessary to use certain binders, such as gums or starches. Briquetting has also been accomplished by using tar or pitch as a binder and then subjecting the briquettes to a low temperature distillation in order to drive off the volatile material from the tar and pitch.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Listeners not far away brought sharp expressions of state at times Monday afternoon and early evening but no serious interference with strong reception. There were periods of great spreading especially to WGY, WOP and WEAP. Henry's program was almost faultless. The latter part of the General Motors program was impaired by fading, but as a whole the Golden Hour has seldom come through better. WSAI was the best DX station.

The "Luxury" of a Clay Pack

By Edna Wallace Hopper
Do you regard a clay pack as one of those delightful inventions for those who can pay to look young?

Edna Wallace Hopper as she looks today

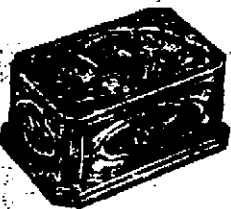

When your own face seems to sag, looks sallow and tired do you simply accept it as "one of those things?"

All it needs is care. A tired skin can be remarkably refreshed by my simple clay pack.

Get a tube of Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay and apply it as directed. When you wash it off the gentle, purifying action of the clay leaves a pleasant afterglow. The pores are freed of tiny, blanching spots of dirt which become imbedded and, particularly in oily skins, form blackheads. Your face is thoroughly freed from these obstructions and the pores can function normally. The clay also is an astringent, leaving the skin clear, the skin firm and clear. My White Youth Clay is the only product of its kind which I know of, is healthy and agreeable to use. It is at any toilet counter, in several sizes.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

Prints Score Along the Riviera as Elsewhere, but Their Success for Evening Is Still Problematical.

Paris, France—The pleated skirt, having already had a long lease on life, is now meeting its prime favorite of old and young alike. One must enter that with printed material in the front ranks, pleating might become more or less of a lost art, but such is not the case.

A printed dress is nearly always pleated, wholly or in part, and there is a theory, which may well be a fact, that by disturbing the symmetry of the design the process of putting it through the pleater, one has made the design less difficult to wear. Of course, while all sorts of patterns were introduced this season, the greatest progress has been made by prints that are unobtrusive in character or fact diminutive in motif and not given to violent color contrasts.

THE CHANEL SHORT JACKET ENSEMBLE WITH SLEEVELESS FROCK.

The Combination of a Printed and Plain Medium Is Offered in a Short Jacket Ensemble from Chanel, the Jumper Frock in Silk Crepe with Small Patterns, and the Jacket in Black Jersey. The Little Bows on the Jumper Are Youthful Touches.

Broken lines, whether occasioned by pleating, by ruffles—or there are again many ruffles—or uneven hemlines, have a desirable softening effect, which is unquestionably one reason why many different types of women are daring prints. When plain materials are combined, the plain fabric becomes the border or trimming.

The success of the flowered chiffon evening gown is still rather in the balance. Women who boast extensive assortments of dance frocks are given to having one or more in their collection. Unless one has many changes, they are, no matter how charming, not advised for evening except for the very young girl, if even for her, and then only when made on softly picturesque lines.

Was She Dumb?

A girl, inspecting bargains in a department store, picked up a pair of golf gloves.

Examining the left-hand glove, the girl said to her companion: "I wonder why this one is padded in the palm?"

"Don't you know?" the other said. "That is a golf glove."

"Oh, I see," was the reply, "and that's the hand you catch the ball with."

The Ape Family

The anthropoid apes are the orang-utan, the chimpanzee, the gorilla and the gibbon. All of these approach and some exceed man in size and all are more or less at home in an erect attitude.

Simple Life Rules

There are two things which will make us happy in this life if we attend to them. The first is never to vex ourselves about what we cannot help, and the second, never to vex ourselves about what we can help.—Chaffield.

Fashion Notes That Are of Interest to Women

Wide belts of leather or fabric with square borders of buttons are worn to match the dress.

An evening coat of silver and gold lace is lined with yellow velvet, and collared with fox, dyed yellow.

A nightgown that is sure to be becoming to the very slender woman has a dramatic effect and turn-back collar of strong color lace. The gown is sleeveless.

Prints give every evidence of being of great importance. While some are small subtle designs, others are large abstruse effects frequently in flower motif used abstractly.

Stunning for spring is a purple cashmere evening sports coat for wear over an opaque shaded lavender hat crepe jumper with tiny purple corded trimmings.

The jewelry have gone to the roleos for some of their late bracelet designs. These are nothing more or less than metal cuffs resembling the leather cuffs worn by many fancy ropers.

A sweater suit that has a distinctly original touch consists of a skirt and cardigan of beige wool with four stripes. The pull-over jumper is of black, a color extremely smart at present in sweater suits.

The woman of more mature years or a woman in mourning will be interested in a dressing gown of lavender crepe de chine, stitched in a most unusual pattern with the selfsame silk and a few little silver threads.

No young lady of seven or so would feel that life is quite complete unless she has one of the new smocked frocks. The simplicity of these frocks makes them equally at home at school, in dark colors, or at parties in pastel tones.

For the woman to whom the fluffy type of clothing is not becoming, there is a smart little suit consisting of a dress of white crepe de chine piped in blue, and a short double-breasted coat of the same material.

Perhaps you're wondering whether the ensemble theme for spring will affect the style value of a separate coat. Particularly in sports apparel, you'll find that the ensemble is more important, but if your heart's set on a separate tweed coat, why not, as some women are doing, order a separate skirt made to match?

Etna's "Cloud-Tree"

One of the most striking phenomena of the last outbreak of the central crater of Mount Etna was the formation of an "eruptive pine," or "cloud-tree," directly above the crater. A famous example of these volcanic smoke-trees was seen standing over Vesuvius during the destruction of Pompeii. But Etna is a far mightier and loftier volcano than Vesuvius. The verge of its great crater is nearly 11,000 feet above sea level and the "eruptive pine" mentioned rose more than 10,000 feet above the crater. It was finally blown off by the wind, hiding the sun as it drifted away in an elongated black cloud.

There will be a trial and grand jury in attendance. There are 272 cases on the civil calendar.

County Clerk Walter G. Geroldson will on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock convene the court at the court house under the provisions of a rule of the court and at that time call the calendar of causes and make up a day calendar of causes ready by both sides. This day calendar will be taken up for disposition on the opening day of court.

ANOTHER ORGANIZATION FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

There was a good attendance of men and women from Kingston and nearby points in Ulster county at the chapel of the First Reformed Church on Thursday afternoon, who had come in response to an invitation prepared by the New York Women's Committee for Law Enforcement, and bearing the names of several well-known Kingston women. The letter of invitation stated that "The Rev. Lucas Boeve, D. D., pastor of the church, will speak. Miss Elizabeth Bain, field secretary of the New York Women's Committee for Law Enforcement, will explain the aims and plans of the committee and assist in the formation of a local branch."

Miss Bain called upon the Rev. Dr. Putnam Cady to open the meeting with prayer. After the singing of one verse of "America," Dr. Boeve spoke briefly but admirably upon the subject of "Law Enforcement" in its broadest sense. After paying Miss Bain a fine compliment on the admirable address which she gave in a response to an emergency call, at an open meeting of Kiwanians at Golden Rule Inn recently, Dr. Boeve quoted the preamble to the constitution and said that if in the making of multitudes of laws it worked out that some laws were bad, they should be repealed if necessary, otherwise anarchy would come to rule. The speaker considered it necessary to do something drastic in the way of law enforcement to prevent the continuation of the present crime wave, especially among young people, but spoke particularly in regard to the necessity of law enforcement in regard to the Eighteenth Amendment, saying that he himself had a hatred against liquor and all of its interests, and felt that all Christian people and the church as a unit should set face to see through the enforcement of the amendment in question.

Miss Bain then spoke at considerable length and interestingly on the subject of law enforcement in its broad sense and of the Eighteenth Amendment in particular, telling of many of her experiences in the World War and in China where she was acting under the government, showing how drunkenness led to distress and crime among our young men. The enforcement of this amendment, Miss Bain quoted others as saying, had had practically no real chance as yet.

Miss Bain then went on to tell how this committee operated to try and secure that sort of legislation that would put teeth into our present enforcement laws, and also how it was its aim to broadcast a program of education in law enforcement, and urged the cooperation of all like-minded men and women, and particularly the cooperation of women's organizations.

The committee includes those of both political parties. At present Miss Grace Van B. Roberts of New York and Highland is the chairman of this committee and Miss Bain urged her audience to come to the support of Miss Grace Roberts and form an Ulster county committee, which was done. Mrs. Harry P. Van Wageningen of Kingston was chosen chairman. Mrs. E. G. Adams, first vice chairman; Mrs. Frank Thompson, second vice chairman; Mrs. Robert Service of Stone Ridge, third vice chairman. The secretary and treasurer were to be appointed. An executive committee had been named, consisting of Mrs. John Monroe, Mrs. Henry Dunbar of Hurley, Mrs. E. G. Adams, Mrs. Noble Graham, Mrs. Louis Coe and Mrs. Dedrick, of the Parent-Teacher Association. Membership cards were distributed, and Miss Bain stated that it was hoped to secure a membership of one thousand men and women in the county.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

A "BITING REMARK"

THIS expression, so obvious that it would seem to lead back to no unusual facts for its origin, still brings to light a colorful tale of ancient Greece to which its existence in modern speech is attributed.

It is an episode in the brilliant and historic career of Nearchus, the commander of the fleet of Alexander the Great in his Indian expedition and governor of Lydia and other great districts in the south of Asia Minor.

In the provinces which he ruled, Nearchus was a dictator, and like other dictators of his time, not incapable of tyranny and cruelty. On one occasion, we learn, he ordered a contrary philosopher pounded to death in a mortar. When the man was beaten almost to death he asked permission to whisper to Nearchus an important communication. And when the ruler bent down close to hear him, he bit off his ear! That was a "biting remark," the first literal one on record, and the inspiration for the use of the phrase in modern speech.

Self-Rule First Lesson

All government—in the home, the school, the state—is only an aid to self-government. Nothing else really controls. No one is truly law abiding until he has learned to rule himself and to obey the voice from within.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

RIDE A HOBBY

SAMUEL A. DERIEUX was a professor of English. He was a writer of fiction. He edited a magazine. To the work of his vocation he devoted nine months of the year. The remaining three months he spent at his vacation. What was that? A study of animals. Many of his writings bore the impress of his love for the out-of-doors. Dr. William T. Hornaday, director of the New York zoological park, in his foreword to Professor Derieux's book, "Animal Personalities," writes: "I think that his insight into the mind of the dog and the horse is nothing less than wonderful." Back of his life work was the man himself. Three months every year spent in the study of animal life made the nine months of professional toil all the more productive of worth-while results.

Every person may not be so fortunate as to have three months free from active duties, but he can have a hobby of some sort which takes him out of himself for a short period of time from which he will return refreshed, enthusiastic and in better mental condition for his daily toil.

Find a hobby. Do not be afraid to ride it. Some people go in for music, writing, mechanics or the sports. Cultivate a vital interest in something aside from the work by which your daily bread is earned. The result in personal efficiency will justify the effort every time.

Jealousy at Once a Virtue and a Defeat

Jealousy, often denounced as an unmitigated evil, is one of the chief supports of monogamy and the American home. If jealousy is really as evil a thing as it is pointed, then marriage and the home must also be evil, since they are inextricably bound up with this passion.

Jealousy has its place, but be sure to keep it there. Do not allow it to control you unreasonably. It helps, to a certain extent, in home building. It often aids in the enforcement of complete fidelity and loyalty on the part of wives and husbands. If every husband did not require complete fidelity on the part of his wife, if every wife did not demand the recognition and fidelity due in marriage, the home would soon decay and disappear. National power is built upon home life. Constructive home building demands the ideals of monogamy and jealousy is not out of place when there is an excuse for it; but, when it is fanned into flame by imaginary causes, it often makes life but little better than Dante's Inferno.—Bernarr Macfadden in True Story Magazine.

Forest of Dwarf Trees

There is a forest of trees only 12 inches in height, bearing leaves (never more than two to a tree), often six feet long, on a twined stem on the west coast of Africa. The trunks of the trees measure about four feet in diameter.

Ready for Father And Son Banquet

The dinner sale for the Father and Son Banquet will be closed Wednesday noon as the indications now show that the seating capacity of the hall has been nearly reached.

Word has been received from Colonel Roosevelt that he will arrive in Poughkeepsie at 4 p. m., where he will meet by Ross' Secretary Hall and Commander Hesselman of the American Legion. Through the courtesy of Le Roy Longendyke, proprietor of the Broadway Garage, the party will make the trip in a Chandler Roadster.

The party will arrive just in time for the banquet, which will start on time, as has every one held during the past seven years.

Through the efforts of Edward Leudike, the efficient Scoutmaster of the American Legion Troop of Boy Scouts, each Scout will be present, either with his own father or his American Legion buddy.

Following the banquet and the address the Troop with the Legionnaires will escort Colonel Roosevelt to the army, where he will present the boys with their colors.

The plans for the menu and the serving of the banquet are in the hands of Mrs. William A. Longyear, president of the Woman's Auxiliary, which means ample quantities of extra high quality.

HOPI INDIAN SNAKE DANCERS AT READER'S

On the bill at Reader's Kingston Theatre for the first three days of this week is a very interesting and educational act presented by M. W. Billingsley who presents Miss Edythe Sterling, noted Hopi Indian worker, with a group of Hopi Indian snake dancers. The program, presented in three parts, includes the ancient dances of the Hopi Indians handed down through the centuries, a re-enactment of one of the Hopi legends, the shooting of bows and arrows and Hopi sports and an historical and industrial exhibit which shows the weaving of blankets, embroidery of basket work, bead work, silversmith's work, pottery, etc. This act also shows articles said to be hundreds of years old which were recovered from Hopi graves. This band of five Hopi Indians, one from each of the five Indian villages of Chimopavi, Mochoyavi, Walpi, Tewa and Oraibi, was received at Washington by Vice President Dawes and other high officials and members of Congress. Miss Sterling, who acts as interpreter, has been a teacher among the Hopi Indians of Arizona. A special children's matinee will be given Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Receipts, 67,230. Prices unchanged.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 1 (AP)—The stock market resumed its march to higher ground today with the rails again in the forefront of the advance. Extreme gains in the active issues ranged from 1 to 12 1/2 points, with a few soft spots developing in the tobacco, coppers and oils. Trading was not quite as heavy as yesterday, although the 2,000,000 share mark was crossed before the end of the third hour.

Despite the growing fears of a credit stringency, speculators for the rise conducted their operations with confidence, and succeeded in attracting a large public following. The west and south again were heavy buyers of stocks, and in some quarters this was interpreted as an indication of increased purchasing power through the recent advance in wheat and cotton prices. Lowering of the call money rate from 6 to 5 1/2 per cent reflected the passing of month-end demands for funds and the return of interest and dividend checks to the banks.

Southern and southwestern rails were in brisk demand. New peak prices for the year, or longer, were registered for Missouri Pacific common and preferred, Chicago and Alton common and preferred, Southern Railway and Reading second preferred, the gains in which ran as high as 3 1/2 points. Lackawanna, Reading and Atchafalpa sold 2 to 3 points higher.

A wave of profit taking swept through the market around midday, but was checked by the lowering of the call money rate.

Standard Oil of New York sold down a point but quickly recovered its loss.

Electric Auto Lite extended its early gain to 12 1/2 points by touching a new peak at 195. Frank G.
Shattuck jumped 7 points to a new top at 99 1/2 and Dupont Advance
Rumely common and preferred and Eastman Kodak advanced 4 to 7 points. Goodrich Rubber, Johns Manville, Hudson Motors, American Metals, Davison Chemical, American and Foreign Power and Utilities Power and Light extended their gains to 3 points or more.

Celebrated Her Birthday.

Miss Betty Entrott, young daughter of Policeman and Mrs. Winfield Entrott, of Andrew street celebrated her birthday on Saturday by entertaining a number of her young friends at a theatre party at the Broadway Theatre that afternoon.
Following the theatre party the guests gathered at the home of the hostess where dainty refreshments were served. Miss Betty proved herself a delightful entertainer and her friends wished her many more happy birthdays. Among those present were Cecelia Netter, Christabel Murphy,
Harriet Rice, Rose Millett, Phyllis
Van Buren, Ethel Stork and Winifred Entrott.

A Birthday Party.

A birthday party was given to Miss Eileen Johnson at her home in Glen-ford, April 23, in honor of her 20th

A Bar Mitzvah Party.

A bar Mitzvah party was given by Mr. and Mrs. N. Levine of 112 Wall street, in honor of their son, Meyer, on his 13th birthday. The celebration took place at the Congregation Abraham Israel on Saturday noon. A catered dinner had been ordered at Jacobson's Restaurant, 54 Broadway, which turned out to be a huge success. Mr. Jacobson had seen to it that the guests had entertainment during and after the dinner. Mr.

Jacobson also gave a delightful surprise by having Professor Sackel, accompanied by his small daughter,
sing a number of violin solos.
The music furnished was fully appreciated for the Paramount Orchestra seldom could entertain them. The toastmaster of the party was Benjamin Feld, who performed his part well. Speeches were given by Silverman, Meyer Levine, Mr. Silveman, Mr. Kenik, Morris Kaplan, S.
Abramowitz, and Nathan Levine.
After the guests had partaken of a wonderful dinner, there was more entertainment and dancing which lasted until the early hours. All went home agreeing that Mr. Jacobson gave a wonderful time to all.

Forman-Wallace.

Lake Katrine, May 1.—A very pretty spring wedding was solemnized at the Flatbush Reformed Church on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when Miss Eleanor Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
John V. Wallace of Lake Katrine, and James S. Forman, son of Mr.
Nelle and the late William T. Forman of Kingston, were united in marriage by the pastor, the Rev. A.
V. S. Wallace, before a large congregation of friends and relatives. While the guests were assembling Miss Sylvia Mantavann played soft music and accompanied William T. Hooley sang very sweetly "O Promise Me".
The groom entered with his brother, Duane, as best man, and then the matron of honor, Mrs. D.
Patterson, sister of the bride, who was gowned in valencia blue with hat to match and carried pink roses, followed by Miss Wallace on the arm of her father. The bride wore a gown of rose beige with hat to match and carried a bouquet of tea roses. Both young ladies made a very pretty picture with the decorations of Marguerites and green. LeRoy Crosby and Donald Parrish served as ushers.
The guests, about 135, repaired to the Grange Hall, which was prettily decorated with white streamers festooned with wedding bells, interspersed with laurel. A sumptuous repast was served under the supervision of Mrs. W. W. Wiant. William Duggan of New York city, a brother-in-law of the bride, acted as master of ceremonies, expressed his appreciation and that of the family to those who had so kindly assisted, manifesting a fine community spirit. He also

Hi-Y Deputation Team Service

Successful Season Brought to a Close With Impressive Service at Y. M. C. A. on Sunday.

The Kingston Hi-Y Deputation Team ended a very successful season with a union service at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Sunday afternoon, April 29. The service started promptly at 3:45 and from then until the last hymn was sung it was conducted in splendid manner by the boys of the Hi-Y Club.

For the past five years the Boys Division of the Y. M. C. A. has sent this team out each year to the various churches of the county to hold services. The team is directed very efficiently by C. R. Hall, Boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A., to whom a large part of the credit for the success of the team is due. F. C. Reidel, of the high school faculty, is in charge of the speakers and Leonard Stine, also of the local high school, is directing the musical part of the program.

The team travels about 500 miles each year and talks to well over 1,700 people of the various churches of the county. This year they held 15 services, and for what reason? First there is a theory prevalent that the young high school students are not giving much of their time to the consideration of the worth while things but are more interested in jazz and its allied habits. These boys are attempting to bring to the older generation the thought that they are interested in the deeper things of life, and that they are actually preparing themselves for leadership in the church, and secondly to prove to the boys of the county that the real manly fellows in the high school are interested in church work.

The program Sunday was very interesting as well as educational, and was a real inspiration to those who were present. The first selection was an orchestra piece "Angel's Serenade" by Franz Knechtel. Happy led the invocation. The hymns "Forward Christian Soldiers" and "How Firm a Foundation" were sung by the audience, led by the Hi-Y Auxiliary. Next, Stine and Shader, two of Kingston's best young men soloists, sang a duet "Lead Us, O Father" accompanied by Miss Genevieve Main at the piano. The scripture lesson was found in II Timothy 2:1-15 and John Watts led in prayer.

At this time the Hi-Y orchestra rendered another selection, "Pillar of Clouds" by Wagner. After the offering was received by the Hi-Y Auxiliary, Alton Shader sang "Open the Gates of the Temple" to the delight of the congregation. He was accompanied by Mr. Stine on the violin.

After the congregation had sung "Faith of Our Fathers," the presiding officer, John Watts, with a few appropriate remarks introduced the speakers of the afternoon. The first speaker was Burton Van Deusen, who spoke on "Wanted—Leaders." Sherwood Lasher spoke on "The Youth and the Christian Religion." Gordon Watts on "Growth," and John Thompson on "The Inevitable Necessity of Faith." All of the speakers were well prepared and were able through the use of interesting illustrations to make their speeches interesting as well as inspirational. The topics were well developed and varied so as not to become monotonous to the large and expectant audience, and were the boys' own work.

Messrs. Stine and Shader again sang a duet which proved to sound even more euphonious than the first. It was, "I Love the Lord."

The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the familiar hymn, "Nearer My God To Thee." The audience sang the first four verses and then sat down and with heads bowed while the orchestra softly played the tune, and then while the congregation was in silent prayer, the violin and piano played the hymn through again. At the close the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley pronounced the benediction.

The service, to use the words of one of Kingston's pastors, was the most impressive ever held within the city of Kingston.

The personnel of the team is as follows:

Speakers—John Watts, John Thompson, Gordon Watts, Kenneth Happy, Burton Van Deusen and Sherwood Lasher. Orchestra—Leonard Stine, first violin; Henry Lawtsch, second violin; Wallace Luley, cornet; Howard Thomas, saxophone; Jay Molyneux, saxophone; Miss Genevieve Main, accompanist. Vocal Selections—Leonard Stine, Alton Shader. Advisors—Leonard Stine, musical director; F. C. Reidel, faculty advisor in charge of speaking; C. R. Hall, secretary Boys' Division Y. M. C. STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL SECRETARY VISITS KINGSTON

The genial countenance and enthusiastic personality of our new State Sunday school secretary, W. G. Landes, was in evidence at the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday afternoon.

The occasion of his visit was a meeting of the Ulster County Sunday school committee. Dr. Landes has the reputation of being able to accomplish results. While still connected with the world's Sunday school convention at Los Angeles, Cal., this summer, Dr. Landes is giving devoted attention to New York state Sunday school matters. He has become a world figure. While cordially greeting old Pennsylvania friends at the Y. M. C. A., he got in a word of exhortation to them to help interest the folks in the county Sunday school program.

It is believed that this comprehends among other things a district organization for the city of Kingston.

CHINA UNEASY OVER JAPANESE TROOPS

Shanghai, May 1 (AP)—The Nationalists were uneasy today over possible action by Japanese troops in Shantung.

The troops may have been sent to that province as protective measure when it became the battleground between the northern and southern (Nationalist) forces.

The Japanese General Fukada in command of the expedition had warned both sides that the railway between Tsinan and Tsingtao must be kept open, and there were reports today that the Nationalists had cut the railway. These sent the Nationalist foreign minister scurrying to General Chiang Kai-Shek, Nationalist commander-in-chief, to consult with him over what steps the Japanese troops might take.

The Southern forces have been gradually closing in on Tsinan, the tail of which Nationalist headquarters announced prematurely last week.

In the meantime, the American, British and Japanese moved to protect their citizens and advised them to evacuate the threatened city. Most Americans and Britons left, the majority going to Tsingtao.

Troops Travel by Rail. Tokyo, May 1 (AP)—The Japanese foreign office stated today that the Chinese Nationalist authorities agreed to permit Japanese troops, recently landed at Tsingtao to protect Japanese interests in Shantung, to go to Tsinan by rail without hindrance.

New York, May 1 (AP)—After a day in which they received the acclaim of 2,500,000 admirers, the three men who flew the Atlantic in the monoplane Bremen stepped today into a period of comparative quiet.

Although thousands in the streets cheered as they rode downtown for a visit to the New York World building and the Sub-Treasury in Wall street, Captain Hermann Koehl, Baron Gunther von Huenfeld and Major James C. Fitzmaurice were freed from the milling throngs that crowded about them everywhere during their formal reception yesterday.

In passing through the city streets the huge machine caused something of a traffic jam. The shovel is intended for use in the claybanks at the brickyard.
